Runaway Garden

By Debra Johnson
Staff Writer

I have said over and over that the hardest part of gardening is keeping the weeds out. Well, this year I got behind working in my garden with setbacks beyond my control. And, I have been trying to catch up and get the garden cleaned out. Boy, the heat set in and we were not the lucky ones to get the rain showers lately.

So, I have been working in the heat and dust for about 2 weeks, but finally, things are looking better. After I cleaned out the weeds from the potatoes, I put landscaping fabric down the row, then covered it with hay. Hopefully, this will keep the weeds at bay.

My husband had to till the garden 3 times to finally get the wild grass out of the middle of the rows.

After each time I would rake out the wild grass he uprooted. I had several wheelbarrows full of grass that came out of the garden. I dug up the weeds in between the plants by hand. We fertilized and watered all the plants and they are looking much better now.

I did have some little helpers to come and finish planting a few sweet potato plants. My sister brought her granddaughters from Georgia to visit, and they loved helping out in the garden. It amazes me how interested children are in learning how to plant a garden. They are always willing to help.

I am just glad things are looking better and maybe I can take a little break for a while, but I am going to keep a watchful eye and not let the weeds take over again!

Before: My runaway garden.

After: Clean garden.

Garden looks much better after a lot of work.

Athens hosting Olympic-style events for Masters Games of Alabama

More than 600 people throughout the state will compete this month at the district level in the Masters Games of Alabama, and Athens is hosting some of those events.

The District 2 competitions in Athens will be June 14 and June 16 at the Athens Recreation Center at the Sportsplex on U.S. 31.

Masters Games of Alabama is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting healthy lifestyles for active adults ages 50 and older. The games began in Oxford in 1989 and evolved to include an Olympic-style atmosphere. Participants do compete at the district level to qualify for the State Games in October, but the organization states the focus is more on fun and fellowship instead of competition. The goal is to promote social, mental and physical activities for this age group.

District 2 includes participants from Limestone, Cullman, DeKalb, Jackson, Lawrence, Madison, Marshall and Morgan counties. There are 10 members from the Athens Activity Center who will compete. They are:

- Roger Beddingfield
- Melinda Jones
- Linda Black
- Paul Irons
- Helga Stover
- Joan Brooks

- Deborah Brewer
- Betty Bolton
- Tony Thornock
- Amy Golden

“Our seniors are eager to participate and are ready to represent Athens well,” said Golden, who also serves as the Athens Activity Center director. “One of our competitors considers himself the domino king, and playing dominoes gives him something to look forward to each day. This is a wonderful opportunity to promote excitement and socialization for him and our other seniors.”

Events that will occur at the Rec Center will be domino doubles, domino singles, basketball free throw, cornhole, pickleball doubles, pickleball mixed doubles and softball throw.

A schedule is available online at: <https://www.athensalabama.us/CivicAlerts.aspx?AID=181>

Elk River boat party set for July 1

By Bridget Jackson

The annual Elk River Boat Party will be Saturday, July 1, and will go from 3-7 p.m. It's free to the public and by boat only. This year starts a new era as we present a new band. It is with a heavy heart that we are changing bands for the very first time Kozmic Mama is no longer playing at our party but remains a dear friend.

That beingsaid, we are very excited and pleased to announce that the 5-group band "Sipsey Falls" will be playing our boat party this year. We have been following them for a while now and liked what we saw. During intermission, Mike and Bridgett will pass out free koozies to all the boaters and sponsors to thank them for coming. The koozies list the sponsors for this event and we are so thankful they continue to make this happen for the community. Planning this part of the party is always fun because each year we pick up new sponsors and get to see some of our repeat sponsors. We are constantly meeting new people and, in a way, connecting businesses together during this event. Giving back to the same community you grew up with is such an honor. Most of the sponsors are friends to us and to each other.

We estimate around 250 to 300 boats attend each year. Of course, each year that number changes with attendance. "Many of the people that attend this event plan their July 4th holiday weekend around it and stay on the water all weekend. It's simply amazing to see!

Kids can go water skiing, ski boarding, and the Alabama Marine Police as well as the Rescue Squad will be on duty, watching out for everyone. There are also the famous bluffs down from the party where many just tie up and hang out, and watch others jump off the bluff. It's just a great day to be on the water. Boats tie up, sit on the back of their boats and just hang out for some good music

THE BAND

The band playing this year's boat party, "Sipsey Falls," is North Alabama's premier country band. The band members have all played in the music industry for 20-plus years with different groups, and have combined their talents to form a supergroup, emphasizing harmonies and steel guitar licks. This band is known for playing a variety of music ranging from Merle Haggard to the real country music on the radio today but pride themselves with carrying the torch of traditional country music with high energetic shows on stage and a lot of crowd involvement. That's why this year we are doing something unique and pretty cool that has never been done on the creek - we will have scan codes available so that the boaters can scan the code, request songs, and it goes right to the band. So, the boaters have the opportunity to not only enjoy the show but participate in what music is played. We are super excited about this opportunity to add such a cool addition to the event.

Directions to the Boat Party: (BY BOAT ONLY)
You can come to our event by dropping your boat in at Lee-Hi community dock, or by the Tennessee River to Anderson Creek. If you are traveling from the Tennessee River, go north on the Elk River and under Lee-Hi Bridge (U.S. 72 bridge). Turn left into Anderson Creek and the party is on the right. The nearest boat launch is the Lee-Hi Bridge boat launch. For more information, go to the 17th Annual Elk River Boat Party on Facebook and then get yourself to the celebration, even if you have to hitch a ride!

Athens Youth Spring Recreation Sports Coming to an End

By Debra Johnson
Staff Writer

The citizens of Athens are fortunate to have a recreation facility like the Sportsplex on Hwy 31 for our youth to use in playing their sport of choice: T-ball, softball, baseball, or soccer. It seems every year there are more young people participating in these sports. This is a good way for kids to learn how to play together as a team, learn sportsmanship, as well as learn skills for their sport. Thanks to the many parents that volunteer to coach these youngsters. Many hours go into the practice and preparation for the games. It is rewarding for parents and grandparents to see their children play and have fun as well as see them improve as the season continues.

The Spring season has come to an end with Tournament games and the Champions being rewarded. Anyone wanting to continue to play these sports, Fall Seasons are available. Check with the Athens Recreation Center for more information about Fall Sports.

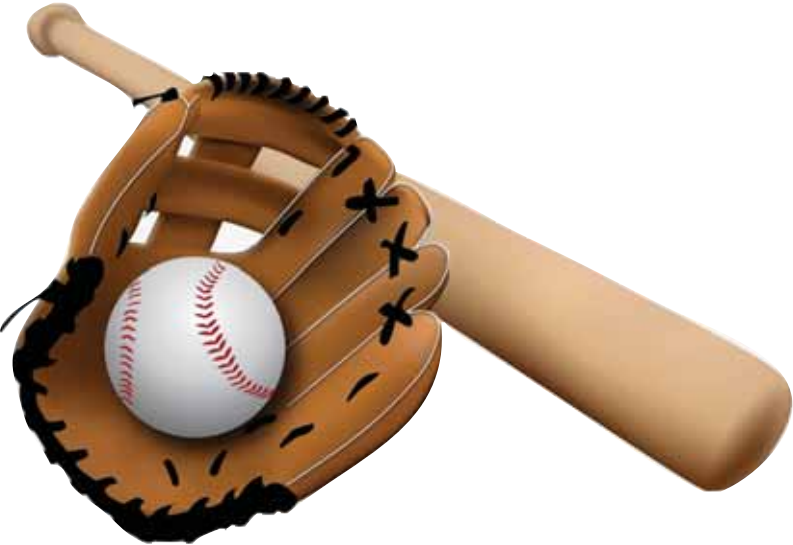

6 and under Softball Tournament Champs were the Buc'ees. They went undefeated for the season as well. Head Coach was David Gough.

The A's were the 7-8 Tournament Champs. Head Coach was Jeremy Alexander with help from Jackson Burgreen, Eric Stanford, and David Dean.

Congratulations to the American League All Stars 5-6 year old American League All Stars played the National League All Stars for the finale of the Spring baseball season at the Sportsplex. The American League All Stars won the game. Coached by Jonathan Johnson and many assistants.

The Cross of North Alabama

By Danny Johnson
Staff Writer

The cross today is used mostly as a religious symbol. You see crosses, especially around Easter, on church grounds. The cross has become a popular piece of jewelry as well in necklaces, rings, and other pieces.

The cross is thought of as a sign both of Christ himself and of the faith of Christians. Matthew 16:24 KJV states, "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

Johnny Maxwell, a pastor in Priceville, AL. had an idea many years ago to erect a cross for all traveling along I-65 South in Morgan County to see. Through many years of prayer, he decided it was time for the idea to become reality. Thanks to donations and support from different religious groups and organizations, the 120 ft. steel cross was erected and can be seen on Priceville Mountain near Libby's Catfish & Diner along Hwy 67. It is said that you can see the cross from 18 miles away. Also, there are plans to build 12 prayer stations around the cross for anyone to use. Fundraising Goal to cover costs of Cross construction and erection is $300,000 and money raised to date is $87,000. Donations are being accepted through their website: The Cross of North Alabama.

The Vision of the Cross of North Alabama is: Bring all people together for a single purpose. Honor God, serve Him, live for Him. According to the organization's mission statement, "Our mission is to build a significant cross and place it overlooking the heart of Morgan County for all its citizens to see and admire, yet a place for ALL to come..."

Fishing Pond Project coming together

By Danny Johnson
Staff Writer

The dry days of summer have engulfed the South. We have missed out on most of the pop-up showers the last few weeks. My fishpond went from running out the spillway to about 16 inches low from full pool.

The Ken Goble well project worked out with a good supply of underground water. Terry Chittam, Debra, my wife, and I dropped the pump into position about 85 feet below the surface. When we flipped the breaker, the water began to flow down the 1.5-inch pipe to the pond. The water was stained but cleared up in an hour and was very clear by 2 hours. The temperature of the well water is in the middle 50's. The pond water is around 82 degrees. I have to be careful not to shock the fish with the wide range of the water temperature. I limit the run time to help balance the pond water temperature.

I stocked the fish about a month ago with bream, bass, and a few channel catfish. I feed daily a high protein floating fish food. I also added several pounds of flat head minnows as a source of food for the bass and catfish. The pond needs a balanced PH and good oxygen level in order to grow the size fish I want.

There are several predator animals, like otters, that must never be allowed near your pond. They will catch and destroy every fish they can. Fish birds also feed on fingerlings near the shoreline. A good algae bloom is also good for the food chain. Zooplanton will help the minnows and small fish to grow. Chemicals purchased from a local farm store can control the green slime. Be careful and don't apply all at once. Instead, do small sections at a time. Give the product about 10 days to work. Green weeds and aquatic vegetation also adds good oxygen to the pond water.

In the heat of the summer an aeration system will save fish from oxygen depletion. If you have electricity there are some good aeration pumps. If no electricity, floating solar aeration pumps can be used. If you see your fish swimming near the top of the water column, the oxygen is low in the pond. Just before daybreak the oxygen level takes a dip.

I will keep everyone posted on the progress of having a man-made fishing hole.

Dealing with Fear...#1

More particular... “The Fear of Horses”

You may or may not know, Fear is the subject of knowledge (or Lack of). Knowing the subject, you are fearful of and how to be with that subject and around that subject. The reality that is experienced when interacting with horses, it can mean the difference between life and death for both human and horse. That subject is Fear...

Fear is one of the most common factors with horse and human get together and the most dangerously misunderstood for the following reasons—what frightens horses does not frighten humans and what frightens humans does not frighten horses. Unfortunately, neither species knows this nor cannot understand why the other is so afraid of such harmless things.

To understand this, we must first understand why horses are afraid of certain things. It's the same as when we are afraid of certain things. Strange, isn't it? Never thought of it that way? Why are we afraid of certain things? We are afraid it will kill us or the lesser, hurt us badly. The same is with the horse, but, more so.

Isn't it strange, we can logically figure out why we're afraid and work through it but we usually don't understand why the horse is afraid of fearful things?

These are some things I will be covering in the next series of articles “Dealing with Fear”. Why is it there? What can we do about it? Where do I begin to overcome my Fear?

Then we will be discussing the horses Fear. Why is it there? What can we do about it? How can we help the horse overcome its fear? Where do I begin?

This is a subject that, if you haven't been around horses much and want to begin, that will arise in your psyche. When it does or before it does, do something about it.

Learn about horses before you ever climb on one. Go somewhere reputable where you can gain some knowledge of the animal. Somewhere with a positive atmosphere which is easier to learn in. A place of FUN...

Physical Strength vs Spiritual Strength

The story of Samson helps us understand that it is good to be physically strong, but it is much more important to be spiritually strong. Some people are unable to develop physical strength, but anyone who tries can develop spiritual strength by studying God's word. Let's explore the life of Samson found in Judges 13-16 and learn the application that we can make to our own lives.

During this time the Israelites did evil in the sight of the Lord, so the Lord delivered them into the hands of the Philistines for forty years. Now Samson, in Judges 13:4 says, "You will become pregnant and have a son whose head is never to be touched by a razor because the boy is to be a Nazirite, dedicated to God from the womb." Samson had great physical strength who was to deliver Israel from the hands of the Philistines. Samson was dedicated to God and a judge for Israel for 20 years. While Samson was a strong man, he lacked wisdom and morals. Keep in mind Samson was supposed to deliver Israel from the Philistines; however, he falls in love with a Philistine woman in Timnah. Imagine Samson's parents' conversations after learning of this. Samson would not listen to his parents but insisted to go get her for me as she will be mine. Samson held a feast which was customary during this time, they chose 30 men to be his companions. Samson told them a riddle and said if you can give me the answer within seven days, then I will give you 30 sets of clothes. But, if you cannot tell me the riddle, then you have to do the same for me.

On the fourth day, these men went to Samson's wife, "Coax your husus, or we will burn you and your father's household to death." Samson's wife went back to him sobbing and became very deceptive, almost nagging him for the answer, then he gave in and told her the riddle. She went back to the men and told them, plus eventually, left with one of Samson's companions who attended at the feast. Samson became enraged and took vengeance on the Philistines.

Instead of learning his lesson, he eventually slept with a prostitute and fell in love with another Philistine woman named Delilah. Delilah convinced Samson to tell her the secret of his strength. Delilah eventually sold him out to the Philistines for about the sum of $7,000 dollars in today's currency. Now the ruler's of the Philistines gouged out his eyes and took him down to Gaza to be put to death.

many more when he died than when he lived.

What are some lessons that we can learn from Samson? #1 Sin will destroy our life. Sin can be very deceptive as well. One of the largest turtles, known as the Alligator Snapping Turtle, weighs around 250lbs, and has a tongue in the shape of a worm. The turtle sits very still at the bottom and sends out his tongue in the shape of a worm, until the fish comes for the worm. Much like sin, the fish are tricked, and the turtle eats the fish. #2 People can influence us the wrong way. Much like the two Philistine ladies who influenced Samson in multiple ways to sin against God. Finally, #3, we are set apart to live a Holy life. We have choices in this life, so let us learn from Samson, and make sure we stay strong in the Lord and obey the pattern laid out in the Bible. True freedom is not found in gaining physical strength, but fully devoting yourself to God repentance, according to Judges 16:28, then Samson prayed to the Lord, "Sovereign Lord, remember me. Please, God, strengthen me just once more, and let me with one blow get revenge on the Philistines for my two eyes." Samson pushed the pillars and down came the temple on the rulers and all the people in it. Thus he killed

Cotton chopping in hot weather

The boys from the holler were busy this time of the year chopping cotton. Farmers were always on the look out for what they referred to as field hands. To be a good field hand one must have a strong back and be reliable. The driver would pick up the workers at 6am and stop by the country store. This was an opportunity for the workers to buy their lunch for the day. Sliced bologna and hoop cheese was the favorite lunch for many of the customers.

Gallon glass jugs wrapped in brown paper bags and was filled with spring or well water for hydration in the field. Sardines and pork & beans was one of my favorites, topped off with saltine crackers. A jelly glass jar was often used as a glass for drinking water.

Men and women made up the cotton chopping workforce. The fields located in the bottom land around Elk River had some rows nearly a mile long. The practice was to remove unwanted grass or weeds from the cotton plants. If the cotton was planted too close together some of the plants were also removed. In June, the summer sun would beat down on you.

Big hats and long sleeve shirts were the common dress. After one worked up a good sweat, you could tolerate the heat. We all looked forward to lunch time eating, and it also meant the workday was over half over. The worker had duties at home feeding livestock, and the quitting time in the field was 3 to 4 o'clock.

On the really hot days Humpy, Dalton, and I would get off the truck as we crossed Shoal Creek. The cool water of the creek felt great and would cool us off from a hard day of chopping cotton. Swimming in the creek was one of our summer past times.

After a swim, we would walk a mile or so home where Grandma would have a good supper cooked.

Fried chicken, boiled corn, and fried taters and corn bread was my favorite meal. When the blackberries were in season, you could count on a pie serving as dessert.

Bedtime came pretty early and sleeping sometimes was hard to do in a house with no fan. Often, we would make a pallet on the front porch in an attempt to get some cool air. The next morning you might awake with a hound dog snuggled up to you. Every now and then I hear someone say they missed the 'good old days'. I beg to differ with that thinking. The slower lifestyle and spending personal time with each other was wonderful, but the heat I can do without.

1960 Ford Falcon

The Ford Falcon is a model line of cars that was produced by Ford from the 1960 to 1970 model years. Though preceded by the Rambler American, the Falcon was the first compact car marketed by the Big Three American manufacturers.

In contrast to its Chevrolet Corvair and (Plymouth) Valiant competitors, the Falcon was developed as a scaled-down version of the full-size Ford Galaxie sedan. Alongside its larger counterparts, the Falcon offered a full range of body styles, including two-door and four-door sedans, two-door hardtops and convertibles, two-door and four-door station wagons (the former, serving as a basis of the final Ford sedan delivery), and coupe utility pickups (serving as the basis of the Ford Ranchero).[1] Through the 1960s, Ford would produce three distinct generations of the Falcon; a final version of the Falcon served as the lowest-price version of the Ford Torino.

For nearly two decades, the model architecture used by the Falcon was used by eleven Ford vehicle lines. Alongside the first generations of the Ford Mustang and Mercury Cougar pony cars and the Ford Econoline/Ford

Falcon Van/Ford Club Wagon vans, the platform was used for two generations of successors to the Falcon, including the Ford Maverick and Mercury Comet and the later Ford Granada and Mercury Monarch; the Lincoln Versailles luxury sedan was the final model line derived from the Falcon.

During its production, the Falcon was manufactured by Ford in multiple facilities across North America. Following its discontinuation in that region, the platform continued in production through 1991 by Ford Argentina (as the Ford Granada). From 1972, Ford Australia continued development of the Falcon as a model line distinct to the region, lasting through 2016.
